Dan Carr is a Principal with CBC Real Estate Group. His primary focus is on the development of commercial assets across the country, with special emphasis on retail, medical office and federal government projects for the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) and General Services Administration (GSA).

Dan has 30 years of real estate experience. Throughout the past 15 years, he has been responsible for the development of more than $500 million in commercial real estate projects. Combined with over $2 billion of acquisition and disposition services, this adds to Dan's extensive knowledge of development and the capital markets. Dan has also worked on the planning, execution and asset management of real estate from an owner's prospective, which allows him to bring a unique perspective to CBC.
